Fierce Rioting Breaks Up Robeson Concert

11 Reported Clubbed Or Stabbed

Peekskill, N.Y., Aug. 27—(AP)—Fierce rioting among thousands of persons broke out tonight at a scheduled picnic grove concert by Paul Robeson and at least 11 persons were reported stabbed or clubbed.

The rioting broke out as marching veterans organizations and concert-goers clashed head-on in a dirt country road near the grove.

The veterans had gathered to protest the concert. Their leaders had announced they would use brass bands to drown out Robeson's singing.

After two and a half hours the fighting still had not been completely quelled.

At least 11 persons were taken to the hospital, police reported, and the hospital said "they come in like flies—we can't keep count of them."

Crowd Of Thousands

The crowd of thousands, on-the-scene newsmen reported, contained a large number of negroes, but most persons were white.

The hospital said the injured apparently were beaten with "rocks, clubs, anything they could get their hands on."

Robeson did not appear on the scene.

The negro singer was reported tied up in the huge traffic jam that the riot caused on nearby roads.

His concert appearance had been scheduled by the Peoples Artists committee for the benefit of the Harlem branch of the Civil Rights Congress.

The congress has been labeled subversive by the U. S. justice department.

Groups Meet Head-On

Newsmen on the scene reported the bitter rioting broke out when thousands of parades marching under veterans' groups colors met head-on with thousands of persons gathering for the concert.

In the fighting that followed, at least seven automobiles were turned upside down, and one was tossed off an embankment into a stream.

A cross was seen to be burning atop a hill above the picnic grove.

Several local veterans organizations announced earlier today that they were staging a "patriotic" parade around the picnic grove.

They said four brass bands would blare forth during Robeson's concert.

At 5:30 p.m. (CST) the parade started past the grove, located in the nearby town of Cortland.

The paraders shouted slogans while their bands blared out patriotic march tunes.

The parade turned into a dirt road leading to the concert bowl, where 2,000 camp chairs had been set up.

Concert goers formed a line across the road and then moved a huge truck across it as a roadblock.

Air Rescue Planes Search For Plane Missing For Day

Dayton, O., Aug. 27—(AP)—Air rescue planes from Selfridge, Mich., and Westover, Mass., today searched an area between Dayton and Pittsburgh, Pa., for a training plane unreported since 8:43 p.m. yesterday.

The AT-6, from Scott Field, Ill., carried a pilot and one passenger. Scott Field officials identified the pilot as 1st Lt. Joseph R. Walker, Jr., 27, and the passenger as Capt. William F. Parker, 32. The base said both were married and the father of two children.

The ship left here at 8:43 p.m. and was due in Pittsburgh at 10:28 p.m. Its route was over Columbus, Newark and near Zanesville.

Two planes from Selfridge and one from Westover took part in the search.

Secretary Of Navy Says West Faces Peril From Reds

Titusville, Pa., Aug. 27—(AP)—Western civilization faces its greatest challenge from "Godless, cynical, grasping materialistic marxist communism," Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews declared today at the oil industry's 90th birthday celebration.

Matthews told a shrill, first-class crowd gathered around the world's first oil well that:

"We must neither hesitate nor falter in our search for peace, no matter how long the road or rough the way. We have learned through the operations of the Truman doctrine, the Marshall plan and the Atlantic pact that we can hold off aggression if we demonstrate firmness of purpose and adequate military strength to back up our foreign policy."

Have Description Of Suspect Sought In Reuther Attack

Detroit, Aug. 27—(AP)—Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy disclosed today Detroit police had a good description of a "definite suspect" being sought in the Victor Reuther shooting.

Reuther, CIO United Automobile Workers educational director, was shot and seriously wounded May 24 as he sat in the living room of his home here. He lost his right eye.

Toy said police are hunting a man seen by neighbors near the UAW official's home two nights before and on the night of the attempted assassination.

Toy made the disclosure in commenting on a report quoting Reuther as saying police have been lax in hunting his own assailant and the man who shot and seriously wounded his brother, Walter, a year and a half ago. Walter, UAW president, was crippled by a shotgun blast under similar circumstances.

The UAW, however, issued a statement yesterday denying that Victor Reuther had said police had been lax in investigating his shooting.

Reuther was quoted by the New York Post as saying police had given the brushoff to an important witness.

Says Truman Should Not Cut Money Bills

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lucas said today that "dangerous authority" lurks in the proposal to give President Truman power to slash up to $3,000,000,000 in congressional appropriations.

The Illinois senator lashed out at the powerful coalition of Democrats and Republicans backing the proposal as it headed for a vote Monday in the senate.

Although a majority of 63 has demanded the right to ballot on the idea, the parliamentary situation may require suspension of the rules to vote on it. This would call for a two-thirds majority—or 64 senators if all 96 vote. The Lucas camp claims not all the 63 will support it.

Lucas told a reporter that the proposal would give Mr. Truman authority he does not want and involves purse-string controls that congress "should be unwilling to surrender."

It would order the President to save not less than 5 per cent nor more than 10 per cent of the funds allowed by congress in the various annual appropriations.

Heading the drive for the measure is Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) who, with his backers, has been pressing Lucas for weeks to bring it to a vote.

McClellan and other supporters of the measure contend the President and congress must share responsibility for budgetary problems and that the chief executive—as well as the lawmakers—should have the opportunity to pare spending.

Anglican Bishop To Visit U.S. During Big Church Revival

London, Aug. 27—(AP)—The moving force behind the biggest church of England revival in years set off today for a coast-to-coast tour of America.

He is the Rev. John William Charles Wand, Anglican bishop of London, who holds that a backslider is where you find him—even if it's in a saloon.

The 64-year-old prelate sailed on the Queen Elizabeth to attend a series of six eucharistic congresses commemorating the fourth centennial of the founding of the English prayer book.

They will be in New York, Cleveland, Chicago, San Francisco, Seattle and Fond-Du-Lac, Wis.

Dr. Wand is a man who is less likely than most visiting churchmen to be shocked by anything he might see in the United States.

Pet Rooster Makes Stew For Neighbor But Owner Objects

Houston, Tex., Aug. 27—(AP)—When 11-year-old William Seth Brown found his pet rooster gone today he marched straight to the police station.

He made a complaint. Police went to the home of a neighbor, got the man out of bed, took a pot of chicken stew off the stove, and brought both to headquarters.

The rooster's name was Biff. "I fed him every day," said Billy, in tears. "I paid for the feed myself with money I made shinning shoes."

Nothing could bring back Biff, Detective H. B. Hooten told Billy. Then the officer had a talk with the neighbor.

Billy got $5. He said he could buy another rooster; maybe even name him Biff.

The neighbor took his $5 pot of chicken stew and went home.

Urges Financial Aid To Students Instead Of GI Bill

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 27—(AP)—Buell G. Gallagher, educational consultant for the Federal Security Administration, today urged "a bold program of financial aid to students" to take the place of the GI Bill.

Gallagher addressed the National Student Congress, which has brought some 1,000 students to the University of Illinois campus.

He said "federal aid to education is a national need. Let national action supply that need."

"Every sensitive college student must carry a disquieting picture in his mind," he added. "It is the picture of the other fellow just like him, just as able, just as hopeful, just as promising, who did not get into college."

"I do not mean that all the sons of the rich are dumb and all the sons of the poor are bright. But what I do mean and what the facts prove is that family income has very little predictive value for intelligence or college success."

DEAF MUTE INJURED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Barbourville, Ky., Aug. 27—(AP)—Fanny Smith, deaf mute daughter of Dock Smith of nearby Fount, was critically injured today when struck by a freight train while walking along the right-of-way.

Two years ago her brother, Rob, also a deaf mute, was killed by a train in the same vicinity. Another brother, Otis, also a deaf mute, was killed by a hit-and-run driver.

Some Gas Drivers Work To Ease The Chicago Shortage

Chicago, Aug. 27—(AP)—Some 1,600 AFL gas and oil truck drivers whose strike—now in its 17th day—has left the footlocking public holding empty fuel tanks, worked today to ease the shortage of gasoline.

The Teamsters union plan to supply gasoline on a round the clock basis to 400 independent retail filling stations went into full operation.

Traffic, which had been cut by one fourth to one third, quickly came back to near its old time volume.

A union official said that emergency operation of the 400 stations made available about 75 per cent of the normal gasoline needs in the metropolitan area.

But motorists had to wait in line to get their tanks filled, and they didn't get the usual windshield massage and oil check.

The stations reopened were those supplied by dealers who have met the union's demand for a 17¢ hourly wage increase, the union said.

Still closed tight were more than 3,000 detail stations whose operators normally are supplied by the major gasoline companies. Meanwhile, the companies, which once offered a 7¢ cent hourly raise to boost truckers' pay to $1.85, had reduced their offer to 5 cents.

Girl, 18 Months, Falls From Moving Elevator To Death

Chicago, Aug. 27—(AP)—A 18-month-old girl was injured fatally today when she fell two and a half stories from a moving elevator in a business building.

The child, Sharon Slater, suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries.

The accident occurred as the elevator, which had no door, was moving from the second to the third floor. When it passed a point where the wall bulged about eight inches away from the front of the elevator, the child fell through the opening.

Her mother, Marsha, about 27, was unable to grab her because she was holding another child in her arms. The trio had gone to the south side building to visit a doctor.

Sharon died in a hospital about an hour after the accident. Police Lieutenant William Hennessy ordered the elevator closed pending an investigation.

Posse Looks For Escaped Python

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 27—(AP)—An armed posse went snake-hunting today for an escaped nine-foot python, but the reptile is still on the loose.

The target of their search escaped here several months ago from a carnival. Nothing was seen of it until recently, when reports rolled in from citizens of the neighborhood.

The posse concentrated on a two-mile area around a drainage ditch.

KING GEORGE DONS KILT FOR A REEL

Balmoral, Scotland, Aug. 27—(AP)—King George VI donned a kilt and tried out his ailing legs in some Scottish reels last night at Balmoral.

A stag line of Scottish soldiers from the King's Guard also danced with Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and Sharmagh Douglas, daughter of U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas.

The royal family is spending its summer vacation at Balmoral.

King George has been taking it easy ever since last November, when he suffered a circulatory ailment, of the legs.

Hunt Testifies He Never Asked Vaughan For Favors

To Ask American Legion To Back Arms Aid Program For Europe

Philadelphia, Aug. 27—(AP)—The American Legion opens its 31st national convention here Monday in the midst of bitter congressional dispute over arms for Europe.

President Truman, Missouri's most eminent Legionnaire, will address the convention at 1 p.m. (CST) Monday. Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson will make two speeches Wednesday.

Spirited pleas for Legion support of the full Truman aid program are anticipated both from the president and the defense secretary. Some congressional leaders are leading a drive to lop nearly half a billion dollars from the measure.

Resolutions supporting the president's program will be presented to the convention.

In addition, there is likely to be a heated demand for arms for China and other parts of the orient threatened by communist armies.

But the 6,000 Legionnaires who'll be here for the convention aren't coming just to talk and listen to speeches. There will be plenty of opportunity for the traditional Legion convention funmaking.

The always-colorful Legion parade is scheduled for Tuesday. Other business at the four-day conclave is at parade rest that day and the blue-capped veterans will take over the city.

More than 1,000,000 persons are expected to watch the 15-hour parade that will have 18,000 men and women stepping to the tunes of 100 musical organizations.

Election of a new national commander, to succeed Perry Brown of Beaumont, Tex., is set for Thursday.

And it seems likely now that the Legion, for the first time, will choose a World War Two veteran. Several state departments, including Pennsylvania, already have picked younger veterans for their state commanders.

Of the six announced candidates for the national post, four are veterans of the second World War. They are Eric Cocke, Jr., Dawson, Ga.; James P. Gray, Omaha, Neb.; Donald R. Wilson, Clarksburg, W. Va.; and George M. Craig, Brazil, Ind.

The veterans of the First World War in the race are Arthur J. Connell, Middletown, Conn., and James F. Daniel of Greenville, S. C.

Some 50,000 visitors are expected here in addition to the delegates. Hotels already are filling up and the convention overflow will spill into private homes and nearby cities.

Police are under orders to arrest any users of water pistols, electric canes and other trick devices, outlawed in a recent city ordinance. They've been favorite devices at some other conventions.

Monster Hurricane Nears Its End In South Georgia

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 27—(AP)—The monster hurricane which staggered Florida with a multi-million dollar tonight was thrashing about south Georgia in its death throes.

But it was dying hard, flinging out angry winds of 50 miles an hour or better and beating the pine flats with a driving rain.

The reeling giant passed through Valdosta, Ga., about 9:30 p.m., after twice raking Florida with maniacal fury.

The reeling giant passed through Valdosta, Ga., about 9:30 p.m., after twice raking Florida with maniacal fury.

Weather Forecaster George Clark at Valdosta said the storm had increased its forward speed and was dissipating its forces rapidly.

Twice the hurricane thundered across Florida like an apocalyptic horseman of destruction.

The first assault was mounted from the Atlantic Friday and then, after driving clear across the rich interior of the playground peninsula, it veered north to scour the region around the moss-hung Suwannee river.

Little damage was reported from today's attack, but that first and most devastating blow shattered Florida from stem to stern.

One Person Drowned

One person was drowned, nearly three scores injured and the damage was counted in the millions. The Miami Herald estimated the destruction to property at $40,000,000. Some estimates ran even higher.

In its march across Florida, the storm mounted winds of 125 miles to 162 miles per hour, raking savagely at 250 miles of the nation's beach resorts.

The 162-mile mark was hit at the Jupiter lighthouse, 18 miles north of West Palm Beach. At that point the coast guard's anemometer failed. The previous sustained reading was 150 miles.

Hurricane warnings still were up, however, from Carrabelle, Fla., to Cedar Keys, while storm warnings flapped from Fort Myers to Panama City.

Hopes Of Quick Settlement Fade In Goodrich Strike

Akron, O., Aug. 27—(AP)—A CIO United Rubber workers strike halted production today in the big B. F. Goodrich Co., which employs nearly 16,000 workers. Any hope for quick settlement faded when negotiations still deadlocked—recessed until Monday.

The major issues are union demands for 25-cent hourly pay raises and $100 monthly company-financed pensions.

A check of Goodrich plants here and in six other cities in as many states showed the strike was 100 per cent effective. It started with the midnight shift at the exact hour the union's old contract with the company expired.

The average hourly pay of the Goodrich production worker is $1.65, compared to $1.525 in the rubber industry.

Couple Rides To Their Wedding On Motorcycles

Murphysboro, Ill., Aug. 27—(AP)—A romance which started a year ago when the bride accepted a ride on the groom's motorcycle culminated in a "motorcycle wedding" today.

The principals, Jack Atherton and Dorothy Will, accompanied by 16 attendants, rode motorcycle to Riverside Park and the ceremony was performed in the band shell by the Rev. Ernest Harbaugh. All are members of the Murphysboro Motorcycle club.

A crowd of about 2,000 gathered in the park for the ceremony, after which the newlyweds left for a wedding trip—on a motorcycle.

Denies Saying He Sold Influence

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—James V. Hunt, a key figure in the five percent inquiry, said tonight he never has asked Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan for anything more important than tickets to an Army-Notre Dame football game.

And Hunt flatly denied that he ever made the statement: "All I have to sell is influence." A witness at the investigation testified under oath that Hunt did say that.

Hunt, self-described Washington management counselor, said it seems to him the senate inquiry has produced "conclusive evidence of the absence of any improper influence" on his part.

Made In Affidavit

Hunt made his statements in an affidavit to a special senate subcommittee checking on whether any such influence has figured in the handling of government business.

Hunt said that if the committee had found any evidence of bribery or corruption, "I would have heard from the Justice Department about it by this time."

The committee has received testimony that Hunt collected fat fees for help in getting government contracts for others, and that he boasted of an inside track to the White House through Vaughan.

Vaughan, who is President Truman's military aide, is scheduled to testify at the inquiry Tuesday. His name, like Hunt's, has bobbed up in the hearings nearly every day.

Vaughan, who is President Truman's military aide, is scheduled to testify at the inquiry Tuesday. His name, like Hunt's, has bobbed up in the hearings nearly every day.

Saw Vaughan A Lot

Hunt, a former lieutenant colonel in the army, said he saw a good deal of Vaughan when he (Hunt) was liaison officer for the quartermaster general and later as liaison officer for the war assets administration.

"Although we have become good friends socially," Hunt said, "I have never to the best of my recollection, asked General Vaughan to do anything for me or for a client or friend of mine more important than getting football tickets to the Army-Notre Dame football game."

As for whether Vaughan ever sought favors from him, Hunt said: "I have no recollection of his ever asking me to do anything more important than to get a supply of matches for Ambassador Pauley or for a fresh supply for the White House."

(The testimony at the hearings was that matches were sought for William D. Pawley, former ambassador to Brazil. The name of Edwin W. Pauley, also a former ambassador, has not figured in testimony regarding matches.)

The committee has wanted to call Hunt to the witness stand, but doctors have told the investigators he is too ill to testify. They reported he won't be able to go before the committee for at least a month.

In the affidavit Hunt told the committee there is no truth about much of the testimony concerning him. In some cases, on the other hand, he acknowledged it had been accurate.

But he stoutly maintained he is innocent of any wrongdoing. And he asserted the business he is in is entirely proper.

Rise In Illinois Polio Cases Drops Some Last Week

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 27—(AP)—The wave of infantile paralysis cases that began rolling over Illinois in early July receded a bit the week ended today.

Whether it will pick up momentum again or continue on the downgrade was a question that only time can answer, state health officials said.

In past years polio has reached its peak incidence in September.

The 276 new polio attacks reported to the state health department in the last seven days compared with 348 in the week of Aug. 14-20 and 298 in the Aug. 7-15 period.

Before that, weekly new case totals had risen steadily since the outbreak's start.

To date this year, 1,502 polio attacks and 111 deaths have been reported to state authorities.

Say Warnings Of War With Japan Reached US In '33

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—Warnings of war with Japan began reaching the state department as early as 1933. This was disclosed today in secret state papers made public by the department.

The warnings came from a variety of sources as Japan pushed her far eastern conquest. Looking back, they may appear today to have more significance than they did at the time—qualified observers also were sending in speculation that the outcome might be a war by Japan with Russia rather than with America.

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and Manila was eight years away.

The volume, one of a series on foreign relations, covers the 1933 period of the far eastern crisis (taking in Japan's conquests in Manchuria).

WEATHER

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Saturday as follows: High, 91; low, 65; and at 6 p.m., 79.

Forecast for Illinois—Considerable cloudiness with occasional showers and cooler today. High 82 to 90.

HOT SOX SOCK OPPOSISH

If the Boston Red Sox don't overtake the New York Yankees and go on to win the American League flag, they'll go down in history as the hottest team that never won a pennant.

On July 4 the Red Sox were 12 games off the pace and had actually lost one more game than they'd won. Since then they've captured about four of every five games played and are galloping along at an almost unstoppable gait. Seldom has baseball seen a better combination of murderous hitting and effective, complete-game pitching.

The Sox have had so many big winning spurts they regard the dropping of a single contest as a bad losing streak. There ought to be quite a run on aspirin among rival clubs these days.

CONSERVATION PROBLEMS SHOULD BE ATTENDED TO BY LAWMAKERS

The steady exhaustion of the world's natural resources in the face of mounting population drew a lot of attention last year, largely because two extremely readable books on the subject were published.

How to protect failing resources and develop new ones still does not command, however, the time and thought it deserves in parliaments and cabinets throughout the world. Lawmakers here and abroad manage to talk about everything but conservation—one of the most elemental factors in world political and economic life.

But now, fortunately, the United Nations is delving into conservation and population problems. Some 400 scientists from 50 countries are gathered in a three-week conference devoted to the question of how to stop the rapid depletion of vital resources and bring them in line with population needs. The meeting is a healthy sign.

After the books by William Vogt and Fairfield Osborn appeared last year, they were branded by some people as "alarmist." Some rather strained efforts were made to disprove their thesis—that population may soon outrun the essentials of life.

None of these attempts tried to deny population growth or the dwindling of resources in soil, timber, minerals and the like. Instead, they pinned hope on science and technology to save the situation before starvation and similar crises develop.

Anyone must wish this will occur, for otherwise the outlook is dark indeed. Osborn told the UN conferences of scientists that the world's population will soar from the present two billion to three billion in 50 years. And a Canadian mineral resources chief warned that the time may not be far off when our best known sources of key materials will be used up.

With the staggering potentialities of atomic energy on the horizon, it would be foolish to predict that the world will not be bailed out of this tightening dilemma. Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, told the delegates a fuller use of science in developing resources might lead to successful support of a vastly expanded population at a much higher standard of living than now prevails.

Yet the fear lingers that lost resources may never quite be matched. Many of the depleted materials were high grade, easy to mine or use, relatively close to population centers where they were needed.

We may be able to put amazing new life in worn-out soils; to devise synthetics and other substitutes; to extract great untapped mineral stores from remote places, or to refine low-grade ores now commercially unusable.

But who can be confident that these answers, however ingenious, will not be much more costly than we would like? Unless atomic furnaces bring us remarkably cheap power, a lower standard of living will be the outcome.

The world will welcome all the benefits science can yield. But meantime lawmakers everywhere ought to put conservation high on their agenda, as a hedge against a future that may not be quite as bright as they so blithely imagine.

Caution Urged In Applying For Insurance Refund

Extreme caution should be exercised by veterans in applying for their National Service Life Insurance refunds, the Illinois Veterans commission said Saturday.

It has already been discovered that one question calls for the listing of service serial numbers and that veterans are supplying their date of enlistment instead.

An error of this kind may result in the veteran having to refile with the government discovers the mistake because the application cannot be processed without service serial numbers.

The serial number is one of the most important items on the application blank. For those veterans who were both enlisted men and then officers, both numbers are required.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans commission are familiar with the application refund instructions and are ready to assist veterans in filling them out properly.

In Scott and Morgan counties veterans can be served by the IVC office located at 6-7 Morrison block in Jacksonville.

Men Putting On Dog, So Dogs Put On Men

By ED CREAUGH

(For Hal Boyle)

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Some day, I do not guarantee when, this reporter is going to learn to keep his big yap shut.

About dogs, anyway. A few days ago I committed a piece for the papers to the effect that dogs are not what they used to be. I said they were somewhat on the sissy side nowadays, that they weren't getting in the headlines much, that the cats seemed to be taking over.

It seems some dog-doters on in Jackmanston, Me., Chula Vista, Calif., and points between disagree. Also, they write letters. Nice letters. Suggesting in a friendly sort of way that when I wrote my piece I was probably drunk.

Some newspapers also reacted. The Utica, N. Y. Observer-Dispatch squandered half a page of perfectly good newsprint, with pictures, to demonstrate that sand was running out of my ears.

Could Be Wrong Well, horrible as the thought may be, I could be wrong.

A couple of the more constructive letters lead toward that conclusion. There is, for instance, the case of Jetty, reported by Dick Johnson of Tampa, Fla.

Jetty is a Texan. (Why a man of from Florida should be boasting a dog from Texas puzzles me, too.) Anyway, Jetty, a black mongrel, is one leap beyond a seeing eye dog. She's a hearing ear dog. She telephone-listens for Mrs. J. D. Ingram, still wonderful. Nice doggie. Here a of Dallas, who is hard of hearing. When Mrs. Ingram's phone rings, Jetty cocks her head to the right. Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C sharp When it rings a second time, Jetty minor, while conducting the band cocks her head to the left. The third, with his tail, do me a favor, will Jetty decides Mrs. Ingram "you" hasn't heard? and starts barking. Don't let me hear about him.

The Kindred child was one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kindred, Jr., who reside near Alexander.

The Morgan County Health department, which Friday confirmed the illness of Betty Lee as due to polio, reported that the six other Kindred children are under quarantine at the home of their grandparents near Alexander.

Became Ill Monday Becoming ill last Monday, the Kindred child was attended by a physician early in the week, and was taken to the hospital Thursday morning. Her condition was regarded as extremely critical almost from the first signs of illness. She lost consciousness and one side was paralyzed.

Betty Lee was born in Virginia on June 26, 1939, the daughter of Byron Kindred, Jr., and Lucille Rogers Kindred. She attended the Alexander Grade school and would have been a sixth grade pupil this fall.

She was a member of the Church of Visitation at Alexander. Surviving besides her parents are two sisters, Mary Louise and Catherine Ann Kindred, who are in New York on vacation; six brothers, Donald, Billy, Jimmy, Johnny, Joe and Tommy, all residing at the family home northeast of Alexander; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kindred, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers of Alexander.

The body was prepared for burial at the Revery Funeral Home. Private funeral services will be held Tuesday morning. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery, Jacksonville.

Phi Beta Kappa Delegates Will Attend Council

The Illinois College chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Epsilon of Illinois, will be among those represented at the twenty-second Triennial Council to be held next week. Dr. Willis De-

Ryke and Arthur E. Hallsberg, secretary-treasurer and president of the local chapter during the past year, will be the local delegates. Approximately 300 college representatives will make up the Council, which meets at the University of Wisconsin from August 31 to September 3.

An important item on the agenda of the Council sessions will be consideration of the establishment of new Phi Beta Kappa Chapters. No new chapters have been formed since the 1940 meeting. ## Old Parachute Jumper Recalls Thrills In Air

BY ARTHUR THATCHER

Jerseyville.—There are millions of small American children who have never witnessed the spectacle that thrilled their parents years ago at the annual homecomings, county fairs and other gatherings of pre-airplane days, the breath-taking, old fashioned, hot air balloon ascension and parachute jump.

The men who followed the balloon and parachute game of the early 1900 period are almost as scarce in some states as veterans of the Civil war. One of the old balloon riders, however, is living in Jerseyville. He is Elmer Noland and he ran his balloon trips to the clouds to over the one hundred mark before bad luck caught up with him at the State Fair in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1925, and placed him on the retired list so far as parachute work is concerned. Noland was born in the Jerseyville vicinity and grew to young manhood here. His early ambition was to be a circus and the stage, and as a young man he followed both the circus and stage life.

For several years he enjoyed the life of a clown in the old Harris Nickel Plate circus out of Chicago. His chief act under the big top was with Hezekiah, the trick mule. Many were Noland's experiences and near mishaps with Hezekiah.

Following the circus experience he went into stage work and played the heavy in stock company roles for several years. The nickelodeon and its successor the modern picture show ended the existence of the majority of stage shows of their time.

Noland had always been interested in balloons. He broke into the game under the tutelage of the late Mac McKinney, one of the best balloon trapeze artists of the old days. He made his first balloon ascension and parachute drop while working with McKinney.

Learned Triple Jump

With other balloon entertainers of his day, Noland developed the three parachute drop performance during a single ascension. Walter Raub was probably the originator of the three jump thriller during a single trip, according to Noland, and it was from Raub that he learned the trick of packing the three chutes for the one big ride into the clouds.

Three parachutes were attached to the balloon. When sufficient height had been reached the signal gun was fired by an observer on the ground and Noland would cut loose from the balloon. The top parachute would open, and when it was fully inflated with air then he would cut from the top parachute. When the second parachute opened he would cut away from it in the final one of the trio.

There were plenty of humorous incidents in the rugged life of the balloon men of their time. Noland recalls with a laugh an experience that befell his crew while giving a balloon ascension at Fieldon, Ill. One of the crew had been breaking in and was preparing to make his first trip to the clouds during the Fieldon exhibition.

Hot Air From Kerosene

The balloon was set up in the main part of the village and was duly filled with hot air. Plenty of kerosene and kerosene wicks were used to generate hot air for filling the big silk bag. Everything was in readiness and the recruit ascensionist was rigged out in tights for the trip. The word was given to "let her go," and the men holding the bag to earth released their hold and the big balloon shot upward, the parachute and rider dangling beneath it.

As related before, it was customary for one of the crew to watch the balloon and when it had gained sufficient altitude the watcher would fire a revolver as a signal that the parachute jumper might cut loose from the bag for the ride to earth. Here-before, the recruit jumper always carried the gun and fired the shot.

"Where's the Gun?"

After the balloon had taken off, Noland started to assume the role of observer and called to another crew member, "Where's the gun? I'll have to fire the signal pretty soon."

"He must have it with him," the crew man finally gasped, pointing upward at the balloon now growing smaller and smaller to the eye as it rose farther above the earth.

Noland was a man used to emergencies. He rushed into the nearby home of a local physician and informed the doctor he wanted to borrow a gun right now and what the gun was to be used for.

The physician was also a man for an emergency. He rushed upstairs and seized a shotgun kept there. He did not take time to return down stairs but went out onto an upstairs porch, raised the gun to his shoulder and blazed away.

The helper making his first trip in the balloon heard the delayed report and cut loose, making a beautiful jump and landing in a corn field a half mile from the lot where he had taken off.

Kidded the Spectators

Noland confessed that often times he would ride the balloon upward a bit longer after he had heard the signal shot. That was just to tantalize the spectators and make them believe that something had gone wrong and he couldn't cut away from the gas bag.

Noland's last effort was at the Iowa State Fair in 1925. The fairgrounds was a difficult one from which to ascend because of many obstructions in the nature of power lines and other obstacles. His balloon started off in the face of a pretty stiff gale and the outfit struck a high power line before it could clear the place. Noland fell a distance of 80 feet. He suffered severe injuries that required hospitalization for many months, and today he is still handicapped as a result of the accident. At present, when Noland feels the urge to get closer to the sky, he takes a steeple jack job painting a church spire or water tower.

Cards Stretch Lead By Taking Twinbill From N.Y.; Bums Win

Lanier, Martin Drop Court Suits Against Baseball

New York, Aug. 27—(P)—Max Lanier and Fred Martin, the St. Louis Cardinals' returned Mexican league "jumpers," today decided to drop their $2,500,000 suit against organized baseball.

The two Cardinals pitchers made known their intentions in a letter to Fred Saigh, president of the National league club. Saigh said the two players would make a formal request for dismissal of the case Monday.

The case of Lanier and Martin along with that of Danny Gardella's had been given priority in federal court here. The suits of the three had been placed at the bottom of the November calendar after the attorneys for the ball players had asked for preference.

Gardella's suit for $300,000 in damages is the only one left challenging baseball's controversial reserve clause. Gardella, one-time outfielder for the New York Giants, is asking damages on the grounds that he was deprived of making a livelihood by organized baseball. He was banned from organized baseball when he went to the Mexican league in 1946.

Helen Sigel Beats Peg Kirk In Women's Golf

Chicago, Aug. 27—(P)—Helen Sigel, 29-year-old Philadelphia champion, beat down a terrific closing rally by Peg Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, to win the Western Amateur Golf Crown today 1-up in 38 holes.

Miss Kirk was never up in the entire match while Miss Sigel, competing in the tournament for the first time, was three-up after the morning 18. She held this margin through the 33rd hole, then the game Peggy perked up to win three consecutive holes and square the match on the 36th.

They halved the 37th in pars. Miss Sigel, 1948 national runner-up and a close pal of Miss Kirk's, then played an easy one-over-par 5 on the 38th while Peg took two shots from a sand trap and eventually required a 6.

BUCKLEY TO DEFEND GOLF TITLE TODAY

New York, Aug. 27—(P)—The St. Louis Cardinals stretched their National league lead to two games over the Brooklyn Dodgers today, taking both ends of a doubleheader from the New York Giants, 5-2 and 11-2, while the Dodgers beat Chicago.

Six home runs, a triple play and the five and six hit pitching of Fred Martin and Harry Brecheen respectively, highlighted the Cardinal triumphs.

The Cards belted four of their homers in the first game and also pulled their second and the National league's fifth triple play of the season.

Stan Musial socked two of the homers and Chuck Diering and Enos Slaughter one each to help Martin best Lefty Dave Koslo. Musial's pair of round-trippers increased his output to 25. The barrier blows accounted for all of the Cards' runs.

The Cards executed the triple play in the third inning. Hank Thompson was on second, Whitey Lockman on first and Bobby Thompson at the plate. With the count 3 and 2 on Thompson, both runners broke with the next pitch which Thompson lined to shortstop Red Schoendienst. Schoendienst stepped on second to double Thompson and tossed to first to triple off Lockman.

St. Louis piled up a 80-lead in the first three innings of the nightcap, routing starter Sheldon Jones with five runs in the third. Ron Northey and Rocky Nelson poled three run homers, Nelson's blow coming in the ninth off Clint Hartung.

Bill Rigney hit a homer for the Giants in the ninth.

The schedule announced is as follows: Sept. 22—Arenzville, here. Sept. 29—Franklin, here. Oct. 6—Mercedia, here. Oct. 13—Chandlerville, here. Oct. 27—Arenzville, here. Nov. 3—Franklin, here.

Boston Edges Cincinnati 6-5

Boston, Aug. 27—(P)—Braves' outfielder Jeff Heath never before hit two more timely home runs than he did today. His first, in the ninth inning, pulled Boston into a 5-5 tie. His second gave the tribe a 6-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Jeff went to bat as a pinch-hitter in the ninth and drilled Ervyn Blackwell's first offering into the bleachers in right field.

With two out in the 10th and the count two balls and one strike Heath poled the next pitch into the same bleachers for the decision.

Heath, who broke his ankle just before last fall's world series, has hit seven homers in 25 games and has driven in 14 runs. His batting average stands at .299.

Calumet's Ponder Breaks Track Record To Win American Race

Chicago, Aug. 27—(P)—Calumet Farm's Ponder today ran the fastest mile and a quarter ever raced by a 3-year-old steed to win the $88,450 American Derby at Washington Park and establish himself as the champion of the year in his class.

Ponder, under the guidance of Jockey Steve Brooks, sized the distance in 2:00 2/5. That clipped a fifth of a second off the track and record of 2:00 3/5 set by Calumet's Fervent in winning the same event in 1947.

Ponder, however, carried 126 pounds compared to 113 assigned to Fervent.

Ponder led Joseph A. Goodwin's Ky Colonel across the finish by two and one quarter lengths. John A. Kinard's Johns Joy was third another length behind, and David Warren Wright, owner of the Calumet forces, hauled down $66,150 as first prize.

Ponder went to the post the favorite at odds of 6-10 and paid $2.60 and $2.20. Ky Colonel returned $2.20 to place. There was no show betting.

The triumph was Ponder's seventh in 17 starts this year and went on the record with three other stakes events which placed him at the top of his division—the Kentucky Derby, the Arlington Classic, and the Peter Pan Handicap.

It raised his earnings for two years of racing to $267,925, all but $400 of which he piled up this year.

Ponder's victory was the fourth American Derby for the Warren Wright establishment. The other Calumet Farm winners were Citation last year, Fervent the year before, and Whirlaway in 1941.

The $66,150 purse also increased Calumet Farm's earnings for the year to $922,647.

The race was witnessed by 21,127. Ponder's time was three fifths of a second slower than the world record held jointly at 1:59 4/5 by another stablemate, Coaltown, and St. Andrews II and Shannon II.

Even though Ponder's margin of victory was convincing, Brooks had to lay the whip on the son of Pensive in the drive to the wire after he had taken the lead in front of the grandstand. Jess Higley had Ky Colonel moving fast on the rail and Johns Joy was showing late speed.

Johns Joy snatched the early lead, but Ky Colonel soon took over and was three lengths in front of Johns Joy at the half mile marker. Shake-me was third and Ponder fourth, ten lengths back of the leader.

At the mile Johns Joy went to the front by a head and Ponder was within another head of Ky Colonel. They rounded the turn for home in that order and Ponder was on the outside improving his position with every stride.

ALEXANDER W. S. C. S. The Alexander W.S.C.S. will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Twyla Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Wood and Mrs. Sylvia Strawn.

Red Sox Whip White Sox 7 To 2

Chicago, Aug. 27—(P)—The Boston Red Sox combined the efforts of Ted Williams, Vern Stephens and Chuck Stobbs for a 7-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox today to remain a game and a half behind the pace-making New York Yankees.

Williams hit two homers, his 33rd and 34th, to pull into a round tripper deadlock with Stephens, who belted his 34th. Stobbs pitched his ninth victory, the 20-year-old bonus southpaw stopping the White Sox on six hits.

The Red Sox scored three times in the fifth to overcome a 1-0 White Sox edge. Bud Souchock, who collected half of the Chicago hits, scored on a single by Cass Michaels and Stobbs' throwing error.

Tigers Subdue Senators 7 To 6

Detroit, Aug. 27—(P)—The Detroit Tigers subdued their Washington Senators "Cousins" by a 7-6 margin today.

The victory was the Tigers' sixth straight and gave them a sweep of the three game series with the Senators. It closed out the Senators' 1949 visit to Briggs Stadium and left the Tigers with a 16-4 edge over the Senators this season.

Hal Newhouse got credit for his 14th win of the year, although relieved by Freddie Hutchinson in the eighth.

Hutch gave up the Senators' last run in the ninth when Sherry Robertson slammed a homer into the right field stands.

WIND INCREASES The force of wind increases with the square of velocity. A 30-mile wind compares with a 10-mile wind as 900 compares with 100. For this reason, a small increase in velocity accounts for a great increase in wind damage.

Australians Fight Back To Take Doubles In Davis Cup Play

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 27—(P)—A pair of Australian tennis stars with hearts as big as kangaroos made one of the most dramatic comebacks in Davis Cup history here today to avert what loomed as certain defeat and keep the 1949 challenge round alive.

Two sets down and seemingly outclassed, John Bromwich and Billy Sidwell brought a terrific demonstration from a crowd of 8,000 as they fought grimly back to square the struggle and finally subdue the veteran American champions, Billy Talbert and Gardner Mulloy, 3-6, 4-6, 10-8, 9-7, 9-7.

For fully five minutes after Sidwell had blazed a placement for the final winning point, the crowd stood in the big stadium and shouted and applauded. The cheers followed the two tired Aussies until they had disappeared under the marquee.

Had they lost, the matches would have been decided, 3 to 0, for the United States. Instead, the scrappers from down under still will have at least a fighting chance of taking the international trophy back home in tomorrow's concluding singles.

The first match will find Ted Schroeder battling Frank Sedgman, the youthful Australian champion, and the final tilt will pair Pancho Gonzales, the American champion against Sidwell. The Americans will be slightly favored in both.

Few matches ever played anywhere packed more drama than today's. In the end the diminutive Sidwell was the hero. He played magnificent tennis where it counted and for long periods actually "carried" Bromwich, who for a decade has been recognized as a master of doubles.

It is doubtful that any two tennis players before ever appeared to have been so thoroughly beaten after two sets and yet come back to claim a victory.

Talbert and Mulloy swept through the first set in 20 minutes. Both Aussies were playing such miserably poor tennis that the Americans didn't win a single earned point, outside of three service aces, until the seventh game.

The second set merely offered more of the same.

Yankees Shutout Cleveland 4 To 0

Cleveland, Aug. 27—(P)—Tommy Byrne, the unpredictable lefthander, pitched the New York Yankees to a sparkling 4-0, two-hit triumph over the world champion Cleveland Indians today. A record ladies day crowd of 82,747 fans, including 60,887 paying customers, watched Ed Byrne outduel Early Wynn.

The triumph enabled the Yanks to maintain their slim one and one half game lead over the Boston Red Sox who trounced the White Sox in Chicago, 7-2.

Ken Keltner and Dale Mitchell collected the Cleveland hits, singles in the fifth and sixth innings, respectively.

Byrne walked six, to run his season's total to 139, hit a batter, and struck out four in gaining his 11th victory and third shutout of the season.

Steps to the Moon

Copyright by Hillman-Curl, Inc.; Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Gaynel Tearne has been reluctant to accept the marriage proposal of wealthy young Barry Bradish in spite of the fact she is fond of him. The chief reason is the entrance into her life of Fritz Freyman, also young but not wealthy. Then Barry's millions saves the life of Gaynel's younger sister Pat when the child needs an emergency operation. Gaynel decides to give Barry her answer, but while dining out with Barry they run into one of Gaynel's friends, Bessie Carter, who is escorted by Fritz. Bessie says that Fritz has been seeing her often. Fritz now asks Gaynel to dance and Barry gives her permission.

XVIII

"SINCE when do you have to get permission from the gilded boy friend?" Fritz demanded, as soon as they were on the floor.

"Just since this evening," Gaynel would hand him back as good as he gave.

"What's he got that I haven't?" Fritz wanted to know. "Besides a yacht and an airplane and a few millions, of course. You never took orders from me."

His eyes were still as extraordinarily blue. They still could do things to her when he bent his head and looked at her like that. He still could dance divinely.

She said, "I never take orders from anyone. My date's with Barry. I'm still old-fashioned enough to believe in the rudiments of manners." She must be old-fashioned in more than one way.

She had told Barry that she was, about marriage. For some unknown reason she suddenly wished she had given him his answer a little while ago at their table, before she had seen Fritz.

"You're fashioned just right to suit me," Fritz declared, and he bent his head still lower and took a little kiss from her neck.

"That's why I did it. So they would see me." He gave her a grin. "Your boy friend was looking for a definite answer? Why didn't she feel like giving Barry that answer now?"

It couldn't be simply because she had seen Fritz. She hadn't liked him tonight. He was too sure of himself. Too smartypants. Yet, she had danced with him and he had touched her neck with his lips and told her she was no good, or what amounted to practically that, and now her heart felt heavy and dull, and glamour had been swept from the whole world, because of that.

Barry said, "May I kiss you good night—or would you rather I didn't?" when they parked before the big house's porte cochere.

Gaynel turned her face up toward his. "Of course you may—if you like," she said. Fritz would not have asked, she thought.

Barry's kiss was brief and brotherly. It did not touch her at all.

IT must have done something to him. His voice was husky when he said, "Thanks. And good night, my dear." Or perhaps it was because he had felt that she had not responded. He seemed in a hurry to go.

Poor Barry, he may have been gilded, but Gaynel was sorry for him. Sorry—and ashamed of herself. To treat Barry like that. When she owed so much to him.

She wondered if Fritz had kissed Bessie yet. The way he had kissed her that night in The Goat's Nest when she had clung to him.

It had not been a little kiss. It had been terrific. It had touched her. Too much. Lifted her to heaven, to a moon Barry could never have taken her to, to an ecstasy she had never experienced before or since. Plunked her down with a bang.

What little kiss.

What in heaven's name was the matter with her?

Plans Set For Giant Crowd At Cass-Scott Soil Exhibit Tuesday

By Richard Jumper

Virginia—Final plans for the Cass-Scott county soil conservation district field day at the Noah Thompson-Edward L. C. Carls farm were completed this week. Several thousand visitors are expected to attend the big event Tuesday, Aug. 30, on the 450 acre farm located seven miles southwest of Virginia and seven miles east of Arenzville.

The Arenzville Community club is the co-sponsor of the event. The program will begin at 10 a.m.

The tour will focus attention on the development of the farm conservation plan as it applies to a particular farm. Special attention was pointed out as to the need for better crop rotation, how they are managed in either a cash grain system of farming or a diversified program which includes livestock.

Thorough Program
To supplement the program of soil and water conservation other practices will be discussed and actual construction methods presented. Such practices will include contouring, sod waterway, construction, treatment, and seeding. Also the use of buffer strips, terracing and strip cropping.

In addition to the problem of soil and water loss many of the acres in Cass County present a drainage problem and this will be explained in the tiling and small surface ditch phase of the program.

Another very important part of the field day will be pasture improvement, which is a problem to most all farmers who have livestock. Approximately 10 acres of permanent pasture will be tested for the amount of available lime, phosphate and potash and the necessary additions will be applied.

You will see the results of using a field cultivator and what kind of a seed bed is needed on the rolling pasture acres of this farm, the legume-grass seed mixtures most adapted to the soil and general conditions of the farm, how to manage pastures in a rotational grazing program and at the same time control weeds and produce a high yield of the adapted legumes and grasses. Such a pasture should produce a forage that is palatable and high in food value.

Trucks will be furnished to enable all visitors to see all sections of the farm with a minimum of walking. Lunch will be served by the Arenzville Community club.

Clothing Union Leader Lauds J. Capps & Sons

Labor-management relations was the subject for the address given by Sam Levin, international vice president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, at the fourth annual picnic given Saturday at Nichols park by J. Capps & Sons, Ltd.

Mr. Levin spoke highly of the excellent cooperation which has flourished between the company and the union since the original agreement was signed 16 years ago.

He reviewed the benefits which the workers have received through the intersection of the union, stating that benefits and improvements are made possible through company profit, which results from top production achieved by an affable relationship between labor and management.

Nierman Presided
The speaker was introduced by Louis Nierman, business manager of the union, who served as master of ceremonies. Mr. Nierman also made a few brief remarks and read messages expressing greetings and best wishes from Harry M. Capps and Robert M. Capps, both of whom were unable to attend.

A crowd of nearly 800 was present at the all-day picnic which got underway at 10 a.m. with a parade from the factory to the park.

Plentiful supplies of ham and chicken and other food awaited the group at the park. Tables were arranged in the two dining halls to accommodate the large attendance.

Games In Afternoon
Following the dinner, games were played, with prizes being awarded the winners. Special games were arranged for the children.

A feature of the day was a softball game between the cutting room and shop employees.

Mr. Nierman and Edward Bagale, vice president of the company, were in charge of arrangements for the event. Highlighting this long list of entries were several antique displays on wheels including the 1921 Stanley Steamer and 1911 Marmon touring car owned by Bill Bley of Beardstown. The Stanley Steamer participated in the parade under its own power, but the Marmon touring car was exhibited on a truck bed because of bad tires.

Approximately 90 horses competed for the two prizes offered for the best saddle horse and the best pony. The Virginia high school band and the Stanley address system furnished music for the long string of floats, horses, automobiles, farm machinery, bicycles and other miscellaneous items of interest, including two wheelbarrows with the local cemetery grave diggers taking a ride.

Morgan Horse Wins
Horses from Springfield, Jacksonville, Mt. Sterling, as well as the many Cass county entries made the job of judging a tough one. First prize was awarded to Everett Mason of R. R. 3 of Jacksonville, owner and rider of "Ambling Sam." The award for the best pony went to Warren Roach of Ashland.

The boys and girls who competed in Saturday's fishing rodeo at Lake Morgan had a lot of fun, but their total catch was pretty much on the slim side. The anglers, all of them under 18 years old, tired hard but the fish wouldn't cooperate. The more fortunate fishermen got the prizes offered by the Jay-Cees, just the same.

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland gave a complete fishing outfit to Ronny Kessinger, 10 years old, 813 Beesley avenue, for the top catch of the day. It was a carp, 12 inches long.

Elizabeth Sturm of 256 Webster street, 15 years old, won the girls' division. The catfish she landed measured exactly 7 1/2 inches.

Altogether there were 106 fish caught during the derby. Chuck Peabody and Elizabeth Sturm won a year's subscription to a national sporting magazine for catching the greatest number of fish. Dicky Cully collected the booby prize for the smallest fish, a blue gill that measured almost three inches.

Other winners included Jim Newport, 15 years old; Kenneth Wilkinson, 10, Larry Ing, 14, and Bobby Slagle of Winchester, 11.

HOT AUTO TRUNK NO DOGHOUSE, SAY THREE YOUNG PUPS

Three young coon hounds, property of a Greene county resident, yipped and barked their way into a lot of attention Saturday afternoon.

Local people passing down North Mainstreet were attracted to a parked car, seemingly empty, but with muffled barks coming from the trunk.

Finally someone in the crowd—a 15 year old Journal Courier news-carrier—could stand the pitiful sounds no longer. He located Policeman Jack Gunterman, who called Major Henri Servais of the Humane Society.

The major and the policeman opened the locked trunk, and bystanders drew some angry breaths when the highly uncomfortable puppies were removed from the torrid iron bottomed enclosure.

The animals—to quote an onlooker—"might as well have been put into a hot oven for their nap."

Some time later the owner returned from "just shopping."

The hounds left Jacksonville riding in the back seat of the auto.
